Community Health and Safety Policies and Protocols

July 2021
(Revised August 2021)
1. INTRODUCTION

Our mission is to help keep the Ave Maria Law environment safe and healthy for our community of students, faculty, staff, and visitors. We have looked to the appropriate organizations such as the Centers for Disease Control (CDC), OSHA, and other agencies and universities for guidance. Our Catholic, social, and moral values and commitment to the community we serve have helped us recognize the need to respect that people have different viewpoints about health concerns during this time. Ave Maria School of Law will continue to rely on federal, state, and local guidance in formulating its plans, policies, and procedures as we move forward.

Returning to in-person activities inevitably increases the potential for exposure. It is important that everyone is considerate of their health and the health of others; this includes being conscientious and taking personal measures to prevent the spread of all communicable illnesses, not just COVID-19.

The following priorities have been taken into consideration while establishing policies and protocols for Ave Maria School of Law to return to work and return to classes:

- Promoting health and safety measures that reduce Coronavirus (COVID-19) cases on campus.
- Providing an atmosphere where all students can get a comprehensive academic experience and in-person instruction.
- Providing clear guidance for the law school community to observe health and safety measures and remaining flexible for changes as needed.
- Recognizing the need to respect that people have different viewpoints regarding health concerns during this time.

These policies may be revised in the event of changing conditions, updated knowledge or CDC guidance.
2. GENERAL POLICIES

A. Return to In-Person Instruction

- Classes will return to in-person instruction beginning with the start of the Fall 2021 semester.

B. Vaccination for Covid-19

- Ave Maria School of Law will not require students, faculty, or administrative staff to be vaccinated in order to return to campus.
- Ave Maria School of Law will not ask students, faculty, or administrative staff if they have been vaccinated.
- Faculty and administrative staff who need to take time off to be vaccinated will be paid for the time.

C. Masking/Face Covering and Social Distancing

- All individuals (vaccinated and unvaccinated) are required to wear masks in all public indoor spaces, including classrooms, study spaces, conference rooms and the Chapel unless no one else is present in that space.
- Three-foot social distancing shall be observed inside campus buildings, including classrooms, study spaces, and conference rooms.
- Hand sanitizer, disinfectant wipes, and other supplies will be widely available on campus. Individuals are advised to clean the immediate area they will occupy.
- Individual faculty and staff members may prefer that individuals who enter their office or work space observe distancing/masking protocols and will communicate their preference. These individual preferences shall be respected.
- Some areas, such as the bookstore, the Chapel, or inside the Wellness Center, may have posted occupancy limits.
- Masks may not feature characters, graphics, images, logos, or words contrary to Catholic values and cannot contain profanity, political-related content, or any message deemed inappropriate or distracting.
- Any individual who is unable to wear face coverings due to health reasons may request accommodations: Employees- Kathleen Shelmerdine in Human Resources at kshelmerdine@avemarialaw.edu, Students- Dean Milliron at mmmilliron@avemarialaw.edu.

D. Masking in the Classroom

- Students will wear masks while in the classroom, except as indicated below.
- Professors need not wear masks while teaching at the front of the classroom, as long as they maintain a distance of 3 feet from students. In the event that a student approaches the professor in the classroom after class to answer questions, both the professor and student will wear masks.
- Students may lower their masks in the classroom for the purpose of responding to a professor’s questions.

E. On-Campus Housing

- Students who move into on-campus housing shall delay their arrival if they or those who may help them move into housing are not feeling well. Arrangements may be made by contacting housing@avemarialaw.edu.

- Housing residents shall communicate with their roommate concerning social distancing and masking within their shared living space. They shall work together to respect each other’s preferences.
- During the first 14 days of occupancy, a minimum of 3 feet of social distancing is advised among those sharing housing. After that period, roommates are considered one household unit. Physical distancing and face coverings are not needed among household members unless someone begins to show signs of a communicable illness.
- While in public indoor spaces, such as the hallways, laundry room, etc., within on-campus housing, all individuals must wear masks unless no one else is present in that space.
- Students testing positive for COVID-19 must contact Dean Milliron at mmmilliron@avemarialaw.edu.

F. Duty to Report and Contact Tracing

- Individuals who are not feeling well must not come to campus and shall get tested if their symptoms are consistent with COVID-19. Individuals must remain off campus and housing residents must not attend in-person classes until they receive a negative test result. Individuals receiving a positive result must follow the policies in this document.
- Faculty, staff and students who test positive are required to stay home to self-quarantine until cleared to return by the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs or the Director of Human Resources.
- Faculty and students testing positive for COVID-19 must contact the Associate Dean for Academic Affairs, Maureen Milliron, at mmmilliron@avemarialaw.edu. Staff testing positive must contact their supervisor and the Director of Human Resources, Kathleen Shelmerdine, at kshemerdine@avemarialaw.edu.
- All fall classes will have seating charts to facilitate contact tracing should a student contract COVID-19.
- Best efforts will be made to notify faculty, staff, and students who may have been in close contact with someone who tests positive for COVID-19. If a member of an unvaccinated student, faculty, or staff’s household tests positive for COVID-19, then other unvaccinated members of his/her household who are not exhibiting symptoms will be asked to self-isolate for 14 days (rather than self-quarantine). This means the individual shall take precautions to not expose others by wearing a mask or social distancing.
- If a member of an unvaccinated student, faculty, or staff member’s household or a direct contact tests positive for COVID-19, then all other unvaccinated members of his/her household who are exhibiting symptoms shall get tested and self-quarantine while they await their test results.
- Faculty and staff with symptoms who are required to quarantine are paid for time off via Paylocity under the selection FFCRA (Families First Coronavirus Response Act). Every employee has 80 hours in this account.
- Those with positive COVID-19 diagnoses will be allowed to resume normal activities only after their 14-day quarantine period is completed, even if they test negative for the virus before that date.

G. Event Planning and Travel

- Events will be planned in consultation with the event organizer and relevant campus staff to minimize crowding and exposure to germs for all participants. Planning must take place well in advance of the event.

- Consideration must be given to food service on campus during the planning process to minimize transmission of germs.
- Travel for school business will resume. Travelers will follow the requirements set forth by the means of transportation utilized.

H. Visitors

- Visitors to campus are required to follow the policies set forth in this document.
- It is the responsibility of faculty, staff and students hosting visitors to inform them of these policies.
